The connoisseur illuminated Anti-Ragging Day is an important observance aimed at raising awareness about the harmful effects of ragging and promoting a safe and healthy environment in educational institutions. Ragging refers to any form of physical, mental, or emotional harassment, abuse, or humiliation inflicted on new students by their seniors. It has been a long-standing issue in many educational institutions and has led to serious physical and psychological consequences for the victims.

Dr.P.Sankar Babu Vice-Principal preached Anti-Ragging Day is observed annually on 18-08-2028 to raise awareness about the harmful practice of ragging and to promote a safe and respectful environment within educational institutions. Ragging refers to any form of physical, verbal, or psychological abuse inflicted upon newcomers or junior students by their senior counterparts. This day aims to emphasize the importance of eradicating ragging from educational institutions and fostering a culture of mutual respect and camaraderie.

Dr.S.Srinivasulu catechized the primary objective of Anti-Ragging Day is to create a sense of responsibility, empathy, and awareness among students, faculty, and staff regarding the negative impact of ragging. The day serves as a platform to discuss the importance of fostering a friendly and inclusive atmosphere within educational institutions.

Dr.N.RAMAIHAH edified educational institutions often organize seminars, workshops, and panel discussions to educate students about the consequences of ragging. Experts in the field, psychologists, and legal professionals might be invited to address the audience and provide insights into the psychological, emotional, and legal aspects of ragging. Since ragging is a punishable offense in many countries, legal experts might be invited to discuss the legal implications of ragging and the rights of the victims.

Mrs.M.Hima Bindu converted Anti-Ragging Day plays a crucial role in addressing the issue of ragging in educational institutions. The aim is to ensure that every student's right to education is upheld without the fear of physical or mental harassment, ultimately promoting personal growth and academic success. It's important to remember that the efforts to prevent ragging are not limited to a single day but should be a continuous endeavor throughout the academic year. Through sustained awareness campaigns, educational institutions can work towards eradicating ragging and creating a positive learning atmosphere for all students.
